

Giving New Meaning To “World Class”, Webber International University
Enrolls Most “Worldly” Class Ever
Now Hosts Students from 48 Different Nations

Babson Park, Florida
For Immediate Release

Topping its previous record of representatives from 37 different nations, Webber International University announced today that its student population now represents 48 different countries.

“Webber opened in 1927, and our first international student arrived in 1928,” says University President Dr. H. Keith Wade. “While global business has been a part of our curriculum almost since our founding, this personal interaction between so many cultures has benefitted both our international and our domestic students. While their initial intent is usually just to get a world class business education, the inevitable friendships and cross-cultural collaborations which begin in the classroom often last a lifetime and reemerge as business associations and partnerships. And, it can be a lot of fun. Going to your friend’s house for Christmas takes on a whole new meaning when your friend lives in Europe, Africa, or Asia.”

Countries represented are Antigua and Barbuda, Argentina, Austria, the Bahamas, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Chile, China, Colombia, the Czech Republic, Denmark, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Finland, France, Gabon, Germany, Ghana, Haiti, Honduras, India, Jamaica, Japan, the Republic of Korea, Liberia, Lithuania, Mexico, the Republic of Moldova, Monaco, Mongolia, the Netherlands, Peru, the Philippines, the Russian Federation, Serbia, Singapore, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Trinidad and Tobago, Turkey, Ukraine, the United Kingdom, the United States of America, Venezuela, and Vietnam.

Established in 1927 as the first private college chartered under Florida’s then new charitable and educational laws and one of the nation’s first business schools for women, Webber International University now hosts men and women from some 48 different nations. Recognized as one of only eleven Schools With a Specialty – Business, by the US News and World Reports America’s Best Colleges and a Best Southeastern College by The Princeton Review, the SACS and IACBE accredited not-for-profit independent University offers degrees exclusively in the areas of business at the associate’s and bachelor’s levels (accounting, computer information systems management, corporate communications, finance, hospitality and tourism management, management, marketing, pre-law, security management, and sport management) and at the master’s level (MBA, MBA with an emphasis in Accounting, MBA with an emphasis in International Business, MBA with an emphasis in Security Management, and MBA with an emphasis in Sport Management), in traditional, night and weekend, and on-line formats.
